Dr Carolyn Cobbold #644, who lives near Chichester (and whose book A Rainbow Palate was the subject of a Cobbweb last month) finished 10th on a short list, chosen from thousands, for the BBC Woman's Hour 30 most powerful volunteer women who had worked for the environment. Her selection was for co-founding the Manhood Peninsula Partnership which resulted in the protection of 399 hectares of important and biodiverse habitats from flooding.

CONGRATULATIONS!

Carolyn Cobbold, 10th of BBC Power List of 30.
